

Liam found a tiny seed sparkling on the sidewalk and planted it in an old mug. Every day he watered it and told it about his dreams. One morning, a small green sprout appeared, and Liam felt as if the plant was quietly promising that his dreams would grow too.